

KUEN Policy on Political Campaign Programming

As a television station focused on instructional programming, KUEN does not broadcast public service announcements, campaign advertising or political statements by candidates for any state, local or national political office. KUEN does not broadcast debates featuring candidates for political office prior to any election.

August 2, 2012